

Rotimi Taiwo holds a PhD in English and is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of English, Obafemi Awolowo University, Nigeria. He is also currently a Humboldt Post Doctoral Fellow at The University of Freiburg, Germany. Dr Taiwo's research focuses on the application of (critical) discourse analytic theories to a wide range of discourse contexts that include the media, religion, student compositions, politics, popular culture and computer-mediated discourse. He has published internationally and is currently editing The Handbook of Research on Discourse Behavior and Digital Communication: Language Structures and Social Interaction.